MATTR WEBSITE COOKIE NOTICE

1. Introduction

This Website Cookie Notice (Cookie Notice) describes how Mattr Corp. and its affiliates (we/us/our/Mattr) use cookies and similar technologies on our website (Site) and how to contact us with any questions concerning this Cookie Notice.

For any personal information collected through the use of cookies and similar technologies, our Website Privacy Notice Mattr Privacy Policy also applies and complements this Cookie Notice.

You can manage your consent preferences at any time to accept or reject the use of various categories of cookies, which are not strictly necessary, through our cookie consent manager accessible by clicking the cookie consent button at the bottom left of our Site. Some features may not work as intended if you disable cookies and similar technologies.

2. What are cookies and similar technologies?

A cookie is a small piece of data (text file) that websites that you visit ask your browser to store on your device (such as your computer or smartphone) in order to remember information about you, your preferences (such as your language of choice) or your device information, when you return to it.

'Similar technologies' falling under the generic term 'cookies' include local objects (sometimes called flash cookies), web beacons, pixels, browser fingerprinting technologies or any technology that stores or accesses information on the user's device.

3. Categories of cookies

The cookies we place on your device when you visit our Site will depend on the choices you make. To see the specific cookies within each category, please visit our cookie consent manager.

We use both first-party and third-party cookies. Cookies placed by us directly are called “first-party cookies”. Cookies that are from a domain other than the domain of our Site are called “third-party cookies”. These cookies are placed on your device by someone other than us. An example of this is when you visit the Site from a social media platform or when you share our jobs to your social media accounts. You can find a list of third parties and their respective cookies in our cookie consent manager by clicking the cookie button at the bottom left of our Site.

Please refer to any third party's privacy policies for information on what information they collect, how they use it, and how long they store it.

3.1 Necessary cookies

These are cookies that are essential for the operation of our Site and use of basic features. The information collected is required for the operation of our Site (e.g. secure log-in or adjusting consent preferences) and enables Mattr to provide you with the services you requested.

These cookies cannot be switched off in our systems and we do not have to ask your consent for placing these cookies. You can set your browser to block or alert you about these cookies, but some parts of the Site will not then work.

3.2 Functional cookies

These cookies are optional and are used to remember the choices you have made, for example the country you visit our Site from, your language and any changes you have made to text size and other parts of the web pages that you can customize to improve your user experience and to make your visits more tailored and enjoyable.

If you do not allow these cookies then some or all of the services on our Site may not function properly.

3.3 Analytical cookies

These cookies are optional and are used to collect information on how visitors use our Site, for example which pages they visit most often, whether they receive any error messages and how they arrived at our website.

Information collected by these cookies is used only to improve the use of our website by our visitors. These cookies are sometimes placed by third party providers of web traffic and analysis services. All personal information collected by these cookies is aggregated and therefore anonymous.

If you do not allow these cookies Mattr will not know when people have visited our Site and will not be able to monitor its performance.

3.4 Targeting cookies

Targeting cookies are optional and are used to make the information displayed on our Sites more relevant to your interests. They also measure the effectiveness of our marketing initiatives.

These cookies may be placed by us or by our third-party advertising partners. They may be used to build a profile of your interests and preferences and may show you relevant advertisements on other websites. These cookies collect personal information, such as the unique identification of your browser and internet device: therefore, your consent is required.

If you do not approve these cookies, you will experience less targeted advertising.

4. Period for which cookies remain active

Many cookies used on our Site are automatically deleted from your device after you finish using our Site (so-called “session cookies”). Therefore, these cookies are automatically deleted by closing the browser.

Other cookies are stored on your computer and make it possible for us to recognize your device on your next visit of our Site (so-called “persistent cookies”). Therefore, these cookies are not deleted by closing the browser, but rather expire after a certain time, as long as you have not previously manually deleted these cookies.

Details on the lifespan of each cookie used are available in the cookie consent manager by clicking the cookie consent button at the bottom left of our Site.

If – after giving consent – you do not want our cookies to be stored on your device, please clear the cookies in your browser for our Site, change your consent status in our cookie consent manager and/or adjust your browser settings so that cookies are generally not stored on your devices or are actively deleted.

5. Changes to our Cookie Notice

If we change anything important about this Cookie Notice we will notify you through a pop-up on our Site for a reasonable length of time prior to and following the change, or another appropriate method. You may review the Cookie Notice by visiting the Site and clicking on the "Cookie Notice" link in the footer.
